Gent: It has been some time since I have addressed you. You may call to mind cataloguing and selling a small collection of my own (while I was at Logan Iowa) together with one of Charles Gilpin, former Mayor of Philadelphia. Sale was July 9th 1897. Did you preserve a copy and of the catalogue prices? have you a handy record of the total sales of my collection? Would like the total sales of the first two pages of my collection also.

Was looking over the priced ^{some days ago} catalogue, you furnished me with the prices figured and carried out and footed.

The first page footed was $28\frac{34}{100}$ the second page with the first included you had footed as $64\frac{99}{100}$ and it seems it should have been $74\frac{99}{100}$. At that time I must have made the same error as you or did not foot it at all. Will you please write me about it and oblige

Gentlemen:

Yours of 9/2 - at hand.

Replying will send ^{registered} mail you under separate cover. The priced catalogue of Coin Sale of July 9th 1899 which included mine. The error mentioned in my letter to you is on the second page. This is the catalogue you furnished me with the figures and footings as you made them. It was no doubt a plain error and unintentional. Our settlement was made from these footings as you will know. I hope soon to be able to put in some time with coins once more and will be glad to kindly remember and recommend you to all enquirers or parties interested in coins. After you have got through with the catalogue & mail, wish you would kindly return same to me and deduct all expense and trouble I have put you to.

Yours Very Truly
